

河西走廊是漢武帝遣霍去病破匈奴，在祁連山及茫茫大漠之間，為中原開闢的一條通往西域的通道。公元前百年，從金城（蘭州）到玉門關和陽關，約1,100公里，漢朝建立了河西四郡—武威、張掖、酒泉和敦煌；十九到廿世紀初，俄、英因爭奪中國西北控制權而在當地造成不少干擾；河西四郡在廿一世紀西部大開發大潮下，再發異彩，其文化旅遊資源豐富，見證古今中外重要歷史，是中華民族重要文化遺產。

Hexi Corridor was developed in Han Dynasty when Emperor Han Wudi sent General Huo Qubing to defeat Huns (Xiongnu). During the 19th and 20th centuries, both Russia and Britain fought for the control over the northwest China, leading to much destruction in the Hexi Corridor. The opening up of the northwestern part of China in the 21st century means that the Silk Road will be a hot tour destination in the years ahead. Hexi Corridor witnessed the rise and fall of different dynasties. Its rich historical sites and artifacts lead you to follow the footprint of the ancient caravans on the Silk Road.
